ARE TO PRAY FOR THE DEAD

ST. LOUIS, Mo., October 26 .- Publica tion of a weekly periodical, "based ipon newspaper rather than on maga lines," will be started by the Protestant Episcopal Church January 1. it was announced at today's session of the church convention here. This, it was announced, would be the first step in an attempt to preach the gospel through the press. The pastoral of the general convention will deal with the world conditions, and will review the European war in its effect on the other nations of the world, upon the United States in particular, according to another announcement made today. letter being prepared by the Rt. Rev. letter being prepared by the Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, bishop of the Philippines; the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts, and the Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago, is the message of the general convention to the communicants of the church, and will be presented at the final joint session tomorrow. Subsequently it will be read in every Episcopal church in the United States.

Today, the house of deputies planned to attempt the completion of the discussion of the report of the joint commission on the revision and enrichment of the book of common prayer.

To Give No Testamentary Advice. Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church will no longer advise dying persons as to the disposal of their curs in an action taken in the house of deputies.

This action would eliminate from the prayer book the direction to ministers to urge a dying person who has not disposed of his goods to make his will, declare his assets and liabilities "for the better discharging of his conscience and the quietness of his executors."

The decision was a result of a proposal of the commission on the revision of the book of common prayer to substitute for the rubric which has been used one which clothed the same general idea in different words.

Francis A. Lewis of Philadelphia obpected, asserting that such service is not, as intended, a strictly religious one.

not, as intended, a strictly religious one.

"Whether a man has made his will is none of the diergy's business," he said. "His creditors will take care of his debts and his executors in all probability will be well paid."

As a result the lower house, sitting as a committee of the whole, vetoed the proposal of the commission and voted to drop the objectionable part of the present rubric.

Prayers for Dead Authorized.

The deputies also rejected a proposal o admonish clergymen "earnestly to move such sick persons as are of Such solicitation, several attorneys who are delegates said, has caused much legal controversy in the courts of the country.

Provision was made also for the first time in the history of the church for voluntary confessional, followed by absolution. The lower house approved a ommendation to insert in the service for the visitation of the sick a rubric, directing that the sick person shall be moved to make a special confession of his sins, if he feels his conscience troubled with any matter, after which confession the minister shall assure him of God's mercy and forgiveness.

by the house of bishops, was adopted only after vigorous protests had been voiced by the Rev. George C. Foley of Philadelphia, and Judge Joseph Packard of Baltimore, chairman, had been forced to decide a deadlock in the vote.

The house of deputies adopted, for the first time in the history of the church, a prayer for the dead. This action also is subject to the concurrence of the house of bishops. Heretofore it was said, such prayers have been confined to the ritual of the Roman Catholic Church. Leaders of the convention said the changing sentiment is a direct result of the great death toil in Europe.

Christ.

The Rev. John E. Sulger of Terre Haute. Ind., urged the inclusion in the prayer book of a service to be read at the funerals of unbaptized adults, excommunicants and suicides, for whom there is at present no service. The proposal was rejected after the Rev. Dr. Robert Talbot of Washington, D. C., had asserted that no clergyman of the

That the United States flag should occupy a prominent place in every Protestant Episcopal church in the ceuntry was urged by speakers at a joint session on missions of the houses of the convention. A resolution directing clergymen to display within their churches a national flag and urging that the Stars and Stripes follow the cross in church processions was offered, but the time for the introduction of new business having expired, was tabled.

He was born at Franklin, Ind., and hoped the remainder will be obtained.

Mrs. Joseph R. Edson is chairman of the local committee in charge of the work and announced today that at the performance Monday evening four one-act plays will be given. In this list will be included "The Miracle of Saint Anthony," by MauriceMaeterlinck; "A Bear," a Russian play by Anton Tchekhoe; "Helena's Husband," by Philip Moeller, and "Moondown," by John Reed.

For several years work to obtain this pension fund has been going on in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and Bishop Lawrence months ago established an office in Wall street for the effort in hand, giving it at times his entire attention.

The fact that two-thirds of the needed sum has been obtained, it is pointed out by leaders of the church, should urge churchmen in all parts of the country to do all in their power to see that the final sum is raised and their church placed in a position to see that adequate provision is made for its retiring clergy. apolis, where his father was a dealer in shoes.
